

Philosophy in Review

A Letter from The Editor (November 2023)

Robert Piercey

Volume 43, Number 4, November 2023

URI: <https://id.erudit.org/iderudit/1108413ar>

DOI: <https://doi.org/10.7202/1108413ar>

See table of contents

Publisher(s)

University of Victoria

ISSN

1206-5269 (print)

1920-8936 (digital)

Explore this journal

Cite this document

Piercey, R. (2023). A Letter from The Editor (November 2023). Philosophy in Review, 43(4), i-i. <https://doi.org/10.7202/1108413ar>

© Robert Piercey, 2023

This document is protected by copyright law. Use of the services of Érudit (including reproduction) is subject to its terms and conditions, which can be viewed online.

<https://apropos.erudit.org/en/users/policy-on-use/>

érudit

This article is disseminated and preserved by Érudit.

Érudit is a non-profit inter-university consortium of the Université de Montréal, Université Laval, and the Université du Québec à Montréal. Its mission is to promote and disseminate research.

<https://www.erudit.org/en/>

A Letter from The Editor

Dear friends of PIR:

This issue will be my last one with Philosophy in Review. I've been with the journal in one capacity or another since 2008, and it will be strange not to work on it anymore. But I've been driving this bus for a long time, and it's time for someone else to take the wheel.

On that note, I'd like to introduce you all to PIR's new editor, Dr. Joel Hubick. Joel did most of the editing for the November issue, and some of you have already met him. He's a terrific philosopher who specializes in phenomenology, but who has broad interests in many areas of the discipline. His first book, The Phenomenology of Questioning: Husserl, Heidegger, and Patočka, will be published by Bloomsbury in December. Joel has some great ideas for taking PIR into the future. I know the journal is in good hands.

I'd like to thank everyone who's helped me in this role over the last fifteen years: our associate editors; managing editor Inba Kehoe and her team of miracle workers; and most of all, the many scholars around the globe who review for the journal. I've enjoyed working with all of you, and I hope you'll continue to support PIR.

With best wishes,

Rob Piercey

